What is Notgram ($NGT)?

Notgram is an emerging Web3 project built on Telegram's social platform. While Notcoin (NOT) gained viral popularity through its tap-to-earn game, Notgram represents the next phase in the ecosystem's evolution—shifting from a casual game to a broader community-driven crypto economy.

$NGT is the official governance and utility token of the Notcoin ecosystem. $NGT holders may participate in community governance, influencing decisions around game upgrades, token utility expansion, and platform integrations. As a cryptocurrency project operating on the TON blockchain, Notgram (NGT) introduces the world's first Proof-of-Subscribe mechanism. This innovative approach allows users to earn NGT tokens by completing in-game tasks within the Notgram application, thereby promoting active community engagement and participation.

NGT Tokenomics

With a fixed total supply of only 21 million tokens, Notgram adopts a scarcity model similar to Bitcoin, aiming to position itself as a valuable digital asset for long-term holders. Its carefully structured tokenomics are designed to promote both stability and sustainable growth within the ecosystem:

- 40% of total supply: Already mined and available for claiming in the official Notgram app. Unclaimed tokens will be burned, effectively reducing the total supply.
- 20% allocated for extra rewards: Available through the Claim Airdrop Campaign, offering additional incentives for early claimants.
- 1% of total supply: Set aside for crypto market makers Wintermute and DWF Labs.
- 39% reserved for future mining: These tokens will be distributed in Season 2, scheduled to commence in the summer following the listing.

Notgram Airdrop

The Notgram airdrop offers eligible users the opportunity to claim free $NGT tokens. However, it has officially extended its popular airdrop campaign until May 19, offering users more time to participate, fix balance issues, and claim their tokens.

After the claim window closed on May 19, a limited withdrawal period is set between May 20 and June 1, leading up to the official token listing scheduled for June 4.

With over 1.6 million users, only 90,000 have claimed so far. If you haven't checked your eligibility yet, now is the time. The process is quick and straightforward through the official Notgram app.

This airdrop is a crucial event for early supporters, as it not only impacts individual rewards but may also influence token scarcity and market dynamics once $NGT is officially listed.

To avoid missing out, eligible participants should take note of the following:

- Claim Deadline: All tokens must be claimed before April 19, 2025.
- Burn Mechanism: Any unclaimed tokens will be irreversibly removed from circulation, decreasing overall supply.
- Limited Distribution: The airdrop is exclusive to a select group of participants, amplifying its value for those who qualify.

With just days remaining, users are strongly encouraged to verify their eligibility and claim their tokens promptly to ensure they don't miss this one-time opportunity.

Follow these steps to secure your free tokens before the deadline:

- Open the official Notgram app.
- Sign in and complete verification.
- Tap "Claim" and receive your tokens instantly.

Additionally, users claiming within the TON network can receive up to 50% extra $NGT through Notgram's reward campaign. This move aims to accelerate mining progress and prepare for the token's official listing.

Notgram Listing Date Confirmed: Notgram ($NGT) Price Prediction

According to the latest announcement, Notgram's native token ($NGT) is scheduled to be listed on June 4, 2025, marking a pivotal milestone in the project's development and opening up a new chapter of growth for early adopters and investors.

The upcoming listing is expected to generate significant interest, especially given the limited number of users who successfully completed the airdrop process. Of the 1.6 million initial participants, only 90,000 users claimed their tokens, effectively reducing the circulating supply at launch. This scarcity could be a key driver of upward price momentum.

Early projections place its potential launch value between $0.35 and $0.40, largely driven by community size, social engagement, and anticipation. However, the future valuation of the $NGT token may largely depend on whether it secures listings on major exchanges like Binance or Bybit. Based on sentiment expressed in community polls on Telegram and X, many believe that a Binance listing alone could propel the token's price beyond $1 during the initial stages of trading.

However, for such bullish projections to materialize, Notgram must first prove its operational readiness, establish platform stability, and rebuild community trust—all of which hinge on how swiftly and effectively the ongoing server-side issues are addressed.

Will Notgram ($NGT) Secure Listing on Binance or MEXC?

While the MEXC launch date has been official for months, recently held community voting reflects lofty aspirations. Notgram launched a poll. The team issued a community poll asking users which centralized exchange (CEX) would be their top choice.

User excitement is surging at an unprecedented pace. Within minutes of the listing announcement, the post garnered over 3,044 upvotes and 542 shares. This points to a clear anticipation from the community, even before Notgram has confirmed specific launch prices, token price, or live market exchange circulation. With over 3,926 votes already added and less than 24 hours remaining, the current results are as follows:

- Binance - 56.7%
- Bitget - 16.2%
- MEXC - 7.5%
- Bybit - 19.7%

Hello everybody ! ! !

We have a great announcement, but first, we would like to get to know our community better. We all know that there are many great CEXs in the world of cryptocurrency, but there are also many restrictions related to CEXs in some countries 🌍🌍🌍

With its 100% confirmed exchange partner, the poll seems to be more than just feedback—it might be a strategic move to evaluate user feedback before approaching other platforms like Binance.

Currently, MEXC remains the only confirmed centralized exchange (CEX) set to list $NGT. While MEXC is a famous exchange with a global user base, projects that secure multi-platform listings — especially on tier-one exchanges like Binance and Coinbase — generally enjoy stronger liquidity, broader exposure, and more robust price discovery.

What are the Notgram Staking Closes Date and Withdrawal Timeline?

For users participating in the Notgram staking pool, the staking phase officially ended on May 5—just three days ahead of the anticipated token launch. Once staking concludes, the launch window opens immediately. The pool is capped at 21 million tokens, and early user engagement has already shown impressive traction, coinciding with rising interest from centralized exchange (CEX) investors.

Withdrawals for staked tokens will be available between April 30 and May 1, marking a dedicated CEX-only phase. According to insider sources, this phase will serve as a “test run” for the ecosystem—allowing the team to monitor technical performance and manage user traffic ahead of the wider launch.

Future Outlook of Notgram ($NGT)

With the listing date now confirmed and market anticipation growing, the question arises: What’s next for Notgram following its initial launch?

- Season 2 Mining Expansion: Set to begin in early summer, the next phase of mining will provide the community with new opportunities to engage and earn, further fueling platform activity.
- Enhanced Token Utility: New features and functionalities will be introduced, potentially expanding $NGT’s use cases within the Notgram ecosystem and beyond.
- Additional Exchange Listings: As user adoption increases, Notgram is expected to pursue further exchange integrations, enhancing both the token’s accessibility and market liquidity.

The confirmation of Notgram’s listing marks a critical inflection point for the project, laying the groundwork for long-term growth and deeper integration into the broader crypto ecosystem. With the deadline for airdrop claims rapidly approaching, eligible participants are urged to act promptly to secure their share before the opportunity closes.

Backed by strong community support and a deflationary supply model, Notgram ($NGT) is well-positioned to become a significant player in the digital asset landscape. As the launch date draws near, all eyes will be on how the market reacts to this highly anticipated debut.
